Miss Henrietta Crossman could give up acting tomorrow and earn a big income as a stage director. She has displayed a talent in this direction that places her among the most eminent dramatic producers of modern times. When Miss Crossman first began a starring career, she had ideas of her own as to how she wished things done, and she determined to carry them out. Consequently she dispensed with a stage director, a proceeding unheard of up to that time, and she herself conducted all the rehearsals. She did more. She planned all scenic effects, suggested and designed costumes, and in fact arranged all details for the presentation of the play. Result, a two years' run of the play in New York, and a reputation for Miss Crossman as a most artistic stage director as well as a gifted actress. From that day to the present Miss Crossman has staged all of her own plays. She was the first woman in this country to undertake such a feat, though her success has brought many imitators.

People owning horses will do well to get a supply of horse liniment and ointment at the sample sale.

A. A. Smith & Brother have added to their sweeping clearance sale about ten dozen suspenders to be closed out at 15c per pair, which undoubtedly would be good values at double the money. They have also added about twenty-five dozen hose, worth from 15c to 25c per pair, to the sale, and will offer for Friday and Saturday plain black, tans and fancy colored hose at the remarkable low price of 9c per pair. It is evident they do not intend carrying any of their large stock of spring and summer goods over. For other bargains see their advertisement on page four of this paper.

The Great Sells and Downs Shows.

Those of our readers who appreciate wholesome amusement should plan to spend the day at Barre where the Sells & Downs Shows will exhibit on Thursday, July 6th.

The Daily X-Ray, of Charles City, said: "The afternoon performance was presented before a tent full of people, who were enthusiastic over every feature. There is an absence of sameness about the Sells & Downs Shows, every part of it being new, novel and artistic. No single thing on the bill was omitted, and when the magnificent exhibition ended the great throng filed slowly out, loath to depart from a place which had provided them with such a pleasant afternoon's entertainment. The performance, with variations, will be repeated this evening."

RAISING PARTRIDGES.

An Interesting and Successful Experiment Being Conducted at Worcester.

Worcester, Mass., June 24.—Dr. Clifford F. Hodge, professor of biology at Clark University, is having remarkable success in his efforts toward domesticating the ruffed grouse, or partridge. The latest achievement is the raising of a second generation of the birds while they are in captivity, five strong healthy birds having been hatched about two weeks ago by the mother partridge. More could scarcely be desired than to have a pair mate and produce their young in the back yard of a city home. So far as is known the birds have acted exactly the same as their brothers in the woods even to the curious act of drumming. They are just as large as those in the woods and are lively and contented. One of the old male birds seems to be especially delighted when Dr. Hodge enters the enclosure and plays with the bird as one would with his pet cat. In no other case, so far as is known, has this species been anywhere near so perfectly domesticated.

Dr. Hodge began these experiments in the spring of 1903, when he obtained some partridge eggs from the woods and hatched them out under a bantam hen. At the time he was laughed at for trying it. But after the chicks were hatched out and it was seen that they were being raised, a member of the Massachusetts Fish and Game Protective Association who resides in Worcester reported the affair to a meeting of the directors, which then voted two hundred dollars to be given to Dr. Hodge in aid of his experiments. He is using it in enlarging his enclosure with a view to aiding such work as the association is doing, especially by eventually setting the birds free in the covers of the state and perhaps in our city parks. Dr. Hodge's purpose in the experiments so far as his own work is concerned is more especially to study scientifically the biological relations of the species—its foods, habits and instincts and the possibilities of its domestication.

DEER IN BURLINGTON.

Young Doe Visited the Railroad Yards and Was Seen on Battery Street.

Certain portions of Burlington appeared to be a primeval wilderness Thursday, for a young doe capered about the streets as if she was first seen on the high bank opposite the round house in the Central Vermont railway yard at noon. She did not appear to be frightened and made her way leisurely along the bank, gathering herbs and grass. She walked towards the tunnel and then disappeared. At about one o'clock she appeared again on Battery street, stopping at the foot of Bank street. She was seen by several employees of the Northern Provision Co., who were interested spectators. Again she returned to the bank and disappeared at the tunnel. The deer was a young doe and was apparently tame. Many farmers on North avenue say that the deer destroy vegetables which they have in their gardens, and that they are especially fond of green peas.

AN ACT OF HUMANITY.

Burlington Humane Agent Killed Shetland Pony.

Winooski, June 24.—Two sons of sunny Italy trundled into Winooski Thursday about seven o'clock from the direction of Burlington. One of the men was driving a most pitiable object called a horse attached to a hurdy-gurdy. The animal was of the Shetland variety and was afflicted with almost every ailment common to his race and every step the animal would take seemed to torture him. Word was sent to Humane Officer John Fuller of Burlington to take care of the case. He found the men and their misused horse just on the brow of the hill entering Essex Junction. Mr. Fuller unhitched the horse from the music box and informed the owners that they would have to get another horse or carry the machine themselves which they proceeded to do. The animal was led to this city by Mr. Fuller, who had it shot in the afternoon.

LIFE SENTENCE PROBABLE.

For Ray C. Johnson Who Killed Boston Woman.

Boston, June 24.—The full bench of the Supreme Court yesterday overruled the exceptions in the case of Ray C. Johnson, formerly of Burlington, Vt., convicted of murder in the second degree for killing Mrs. Sarah E. Peters in January, 1904. The case goes back to the superior court for imposing sentence. The penalty is life imprisonment.

IT IS SERIOUS.

Some Barre People Fail To Realize This Seriousness.

The constant aching of a bad back, The weariness, the tired feeling, The pains and aches of kidney ills Are serious—if neglected. Dangerous urinary troubles follow. A Barre citizen shows you how to avoid them.

C. Milne (retired), address 25 Branch St., says: "When I first noticed a dull aching in the small of my back, about three years ago I did not pay much attention to it, although very often the twinges radiated to the shoulders. But by and by, when I noticed it every morning when getting up after an hour or so, and when in the evening I sat down to read a newspaper I found that the dull chronic aching kept up its aggravation, then I became anxious about my condition, for I knew there was some disturbance of action of the kidneys. I was often so nervous from the irritable aching that I was compelled to get up and walk around the rooms so as to keep the miserable feeling under subjection. When suffering very acutely I happened to read about Doan's Kidney Pills and I was induced from the advertisement to go to E. A. Drown's drug store for a box. After a few days' treatment I noticed a decided improvement and a continuation of the use of the pills completely stopped the annoying attack. Since then I have not noticed any symptoms of a recurrence."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

A. C. Sargent of St. Albans Said to Have Issued Check on No Account.

St. Albans, June 24.—A. C. Sargent, who was arrested Tuesday night, is still in the Franklin county jail on a suit brought for the recovery of $200 by Mrs. Francis Page. The process is returnable against Sargent's body and the allegation in the suit is that Sargent, after having borrowed $200 from Mrs. Page, gave her a worthless check for $189 in payment of the note, the check being made payable at the Western National Bank, where Sargent had no account or balance. It is understood that there are other financial difficulties that the defendant will be called upon to adjust before he regains his liberty.
